Chandler Bros. Give

Away Nice Art Square.

The nice Axminster art square, given away as an advertisement by Messrs. J. J. and W. H. Chandler last Saturday afternoon, was awarded to Mrs. Cooper, who lives with her sister, Mrs. E. M. Smith, on East Main street.

As advertised in these columns, the art square was offered as a prize for advertising purposes exclusively. The ticket upon which it was won was No. 738, being the nearest number to the one which had been drawn and placed in a sealed envelope in the Sea Island bank at the beginning of the contest.

The exact number was 734, which was held by Mrs. Rosie Kennedy, of Jimps. She was not present nor represented at the opening of the ticket, however, and the prize was awarded, as advertised, to the person present holding the nearest correct number. No. 736 was held by Mrs. Lizzie Stafford, of Register, and No. 737 by Edna Young, of Dover, either one of whom would have secured the art square had they been present or represented as required under the conditions of the offer.

Brooklet's New School House.

On a recent visit to the town of Brooklet, the TIMES man was delighted to be shown through the handsome new brick school house now being erected. The building will cost completed about $8,500. It has two stories, with four class rooms on the first floor and two on the second. There is a large auditorium and music room on the second floor. The school is growing rapidly, as is also every enterprise of the town, and the new building is an ornament of which the taxpayers are proud.

Burglar Has Foot

Twelve Inches Long.

A sneak thief visited the southern part of the city at an early hour Monday morning, and evidences of his visit were left at a number of residences. At the home of Eld. F. M. Donaldson, which he entered through a raised window, he secured $13 in cash belonging to Mr. Donaldson's son. At other places food was taken.

It was about 2 o'clock that Mr. J. A. Wilson was aroused by some one striking matches in his dining room. When he arose to investigate, the intruder fled out the back way, scaling the garden fence.

The bare-foot tracks, which were to be found in almost every yard in that section, measured 12 inches long, and were evidently those of a very large negro.

Easter Services at Hubert.

Everybody is most cordially invited to attend the special Easter services at MacDonnell church, at Hubert, next Sunday.

R. R. Carr Died at Wadley.

Wadley, Ga., April 8.—On Monday morning, April 8, at his home about one mile from here, Mr. R. R. Carr breathed his last after a short illness of pneumonia. His death was a great shock to the community, though hourly expected by the family.

The funeral took place Tuesday at 12 o'clock at the First Baptist church of this place, Rev. R. D. DeWeese conducting the services. After the funeral the remains were taken to the East Side cemetery for interment.

Besides the widow, he leaves eight children, Misses Edna, Lester, Garden, Esther, Doy and Kermit, of Wadley; Mrs. W. H. Woodcock, of Statesboro; Mrs. L. L. Woodcock, of Statesboro; two brothers, W. J. Carr, of Wadley, and James Carr, of Montrose, Ga.; one sister, Mrs. A. E. Hilliard, of Dublin, Ga., and an aged father and mother of Wadley to mourn his death. The family has the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Reply to William Jones.

MR. EDITOR:

A few weeks ago there appeared a communication in your paper signed by one William Jones, virtually claiming that the county school commissioner deserves credit for the increase of the population of the county. I took issue with him, and showed that the county had been growing in many respects long before he came in office—growing in population—children included, and as a natural consequence there were a year ago, I found no fault with him or any one else, but stated some facts that Jones failed to mention, etc.

Now comes Jones in your last issue with a two column slang about faultfinders. He is careful not to mention my name, but every intelligent reader can see plainly that I am the target he is shooting at. In my short piece I told nothing but facts which cannot be denied. But a person who is possessed with an evil spirit don't like the truth, and it has been so ever since the devil was turned loose among men. Truth will stand the test with good people, but the evil-minded hate the truth.

When Jesus Christ told the people the truth they "cussed him out," and finally crucified him.

We read somewhere in the Bible that the Saviour cast some devils out of a man and they entered into a herd of swine and they ran violently into the water and were drowned, but it seems that one of them has come to life and is now lurking about on his hind legs belching out his venom and pronouncing anathemas upon those who dare to speak the truth.

Now, a few words to friend (?) Jones and I am done: Come out from behind a fictitious name. Come out from the bushes into the open. Don't be ashamed to sign your real name. Be a man and don't act the coward, but let the people know who you are and see your business. A bushwhacker is of the low order of the human specie, and is considered in time of war and also in time of peace. Also tell the people if you have any monetary interest in the commission. B. W. DARSEY.

SEEKS WIFE AND BABES

ALABAMA MAN KEEPS UP LONG HUNT FOR LOVED ONES.

Albany, Ga., April 12.—W. E. Boatright, the Brewton, Ala., man who has been trailing his runaway wife and children and the man who carried them off through three states since the 10th of December, has again been to Albany. He is as determined as ever and says he never expects to rest, even for a day, till he is again in possession of his two little children.

There is a great deal in the case of this Alabama farmer that is pathetic. Arthur McGowan is the man who Boatright says broke up his home, coaxing his wife to leave for a life of shame. The woman would go only on condition that she be allowed to take her two children along, and to this McGowan agreed. The little boy is 3 years old and his sister was 20 months old last Sunday. This Boatright told while he was in Albany yesterday.

Boatright was only a few hours behind the fugitives when he reached Albany. He trailed them to this point, but has had difficulty in learning what direction they took from here. He is traveling as they are, in a buggy. A couple of weeks ago he was within an hour's ride of them, but lost the trail when success seemed to be within his grasp. It didn't discourage him, though, for many previous disappointments had met him since the chase began, and as soon as he could find the trail he began following it again with unflagging zeal.

Boatright says: "Nobody knows what I have been through. No matter where am or what I happen to be doing, the faces of them two little babies of mine are always before me. They've been camping out, living like wild creatures, all these months, in rain and cold, day and night. I know how they've suffered, and I'd give my right arm for I could get my hands on them. It ain't revenge that I'm after; it's my babies. I want to get them in my arms, and then I'll be ready to go back to Alabama

Returns for Two Hours

And Disappears Again.

New York, April 7.—Thought dead for 35 years, Austin Hudson suddenly appeared on Tuesday last at the home of his nephew, John Maloney, a Brooklyn coal dealer. After a two hours' visit, during which he established his identity to the satisfaction of all concerned, he dropped out of sight again and is still missing. Maloney appealed to the police to assist him in his search for the missing man.

The story of Hudson's remarkable disappearance is related by Maloney as having been told him by his mother, a sister of the missing man. Maloney told the police: "Hudson was 2 years old then, and she distinctly remembered his disappearance. One day uncle came home and told his mother he had met the captain of a large clipper ship who wanted to take him to sea. Next day he was missing."

GUESSING ON SENATORSHIP

NEWSPAPER REPORTERS HAVE NO INFORMATION ON SUBJECT.

Atlanta, April 14.—The publication in this morning's state papers that Hoke Smith is practically certain to figure in the coming senatorial race has not created any stir in political circles here. It is assumed that no new facts have been secured by the newspaper correspondents, for none was presented in the article. And if the article is based on no new and unpublished facts, the situation is no different from its appearance two months ago.

Ever since the death of Senator Clay it has been freely predicted that the Hoke Smith element would center on him as the leader and send him to the senate in either of two events. First, if he desired the office; second, if the progressives, so-called, could not agree upon some candidate other than Mr. Smith, who would be strong enough to defeat Joe Terrell before the legislature.

So far as is known Governor-elect Smith has never admitted to a human being that he would accept the senatorship. Nor so far as is known has he ever stated he would decline it.

Politicians here, particularly those hostile to Hoke Smith, sometimes say he is playing a deep game; that he is merely waiting in silence for the progressives to force the election upon him, and that by refusing to announce himself out of the race he is preventing some of his staunch friends from declaring themselves to be candidates.

This, of course, is an unfriendly view. However, it is a cold fact that Hoke Smith is saying nothing and everybody is wondering what he is thinking.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health cannot be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Sold by M. M. Lively, opposite new bank building.

LEASE GOVERNOR'S MANSION

QUESTION IS CAUSE OF MUCH COMMENT THROUGHOUT STATE.

Atlanta, April 16.—The state commission's action of Friday in recommending the lease of the governor's mansion to B. M. Grant & Co. for a term of 99 years, for a total rental of $2,040,000 for the term, has caused much comment, both for and against, among real estate men and others. It is shown that the Grant bid would bring into the state less than 4 per cent interest on the highest cash offer, $351,000. On the other hand, it was shown that the commission's recommendation was only tentative; that the matter would be thoroughly threshed out by the legislature, and that the final action would be to the best interest of the state.

A member of the commission said to a reporter: "Each of the proposals was thoroughly gone into and the recommendation to accept the bid of B. M. Grant & Co. was unanimous. If the property was sold for $351,000 cash that amount would not have to be applied on the public debt, as has been intimated. By a decision of the supreme court, the money could be applied to the interest on the public debt and the money which is levied in taxes to pay the interest on the public debt would be spent, and I might say, squandered. With the property leased for 99 years at a fair rate of interest, which increases according to the estimated enhancement in realty values, at the expiration of the term the property would revert to the state and at that time might be worth more than $1,000,000; to say nothing of the improvements which might be on it at the time. However, all the others, together with what information the commission has, will be submitted to the legislature, and it will take the final action."

Governor-elect Hoke Smith, who was called into the commission's conference as a matter of courtesy, in order that he might be acquainted with all the facts inasmuch as the matter would ultimately come under his consideration, declined to discuss the affair further than to say:

"The commission's action was only tentative. The matter of lease or sale will be definitely settled by the legislature, and whatever is decided on will certainly be to the best interest of the state and the people."

In other sources it was argued that the object of the commission in advertising for proposals for the purchase or lease of the property was merely to ascertain its real value—to simply reach a definite valuation.

It was also learned that the probability was that having obtained the desired information, the legislature would invite open bids for the purchase of the property at not less than $351,000, if it decided to sell, and if it was thought to the best interests of the people to lease, to invite proposals for that at not less than B. M. Grant & Co.'s offer.

The consensus of opinion of all those who have given the matter thought is that the public will again have an opportunity to bid for the property, and that the amount either sale or lease will be no less than the figures which were considered by the commission Friday, and may be more.

Foley Kidney Pills contain in concentrated form ingredients of established therapeutic value for the relief and cure of all kidney and bladder ailments. Foley Kidney Pills are antiseptic, tonic and restorative. Refuse substitutes. Sold by M. M. Lively, opposite new bank building.

Baseball Players Get

$800,000 in Salaries.

New York, April 7.—Nearly 400 ball players will begin drawing salaries from the 16 major league clubs on April 12, when the 1911 season opens throughout the country.

Baseball sharps here figure that before the pennant races end the magnates will have paid out more than $800,000 for services rendered.

It is conceded that the players in the National and the American leagues this year will receive more money for their labors than ever before in the history of the game. There is no salary limit in vogue and the stipends range all the way from $1,500 to nearly ten times that amount.

In the New York Nationals, John McGraw, manager, who is not a player, will receive about $12,000 for his work this year.

Christy Mathewson is believed to be the highest paid ball player in the profession. He signed a five-year contract last winter at an annual salary of $10,000, it is said. The two dozen other players on the New York team will average about $2,750 apiece, swelling the total salary list to more than $55,000, the highwater mark and record in professional baseball.

The New York Americans will also receive liberal salaries. Manager Chase will draw $7,000 for his services as manager, captain and first baseman, with a chance to receive a substantial bonus if the Hillmen win the championship.

Russell Ford, the team's star pitcher, will get close to $5,000, and the season's pay roll will foot up in the neighborhood of $65,000. Among the other big league teams, the pitchers will, as usual be the star performers on the salary list. According to current reports, the wages of some of the more important players will run about as follows:

Coombs and Bender, Philadelphia, $5,000 each; Walsh, Chicago, $6,000; Mullen, Detroit, $5,000; Adams, Pittsburgh, $5,000; Brown, Chicago, $5,000; Collins, Philadelphia, $7,000; Lajoie, Cleveland, $7,000; Wagner, Pittsburgh, $6,000; Cobb, Detroit, $8,000.

Practically all the big league clubs, except Boston, will exceed the $50,00

UNITED STATES TO CALL
MEXICO TO ACCOUNT

FOR DEATH AND INJURY OF
AMERICANS CAUSED BY
STRAY BULLETS.

REELS SHOW SHREWDSNESS

Protracted Conference Held at

Washington.—The Mexican government, according to the view at the state department, will be held accountable for the loss of life and injury to Americans of Douglas, Ariz., during the fighting between federal and insurgents at Agua Prieta.

No matter where the fire of the federal or that of the insurgents inflicted the injury it will be the federal government to which the United States will look for reparation.

As soon as official reports upon the fighting and the casualties sustained by Americans shall have been received, representations will be made to the Mexican government, it is believed, and in due course the claims of those injured will be presented. It is pointed out, however, that in some cases Mexico will have a counter claim of contributory negligence on the part of injured Americans.

As a renewal of fighting at Agua Prieta is looked for, it is expected the formal notice will be served upon both federal and insurgent forces to the effect that American property on this side of the border must not be endangered.

Insurgent shrewdsness is recognized in the fact that they attacked from the north of Agua Prieta, so as to force its defenders to fire toward Douglas. The apparent rule has been comment here. The rebels are believed to have conceived the possibility that such a movement might result in complications and the retention of the Mexican government with that of the United States.

Secretary of State Knox was at the White House consulting with the president about the situation arising out of the battle of Agua Prieta. The conference was a protracted one.

At the meeting of the cabinet the situation may be discussed by the president with all of his advisors.

"PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW"

AMERICANS CAUSED BY
STRAY BULLETS.

REELS SHOW SHREWDSNESS

Protracted Conference Held at

Washington.—The Mexican government, according to the view at the state department, will be held accountable for the loss of life and injury to Americans of Douglas, Ariz., during the fighting between federal and insurgents at Agua Prieta.

No matter where the fire of the federal or that of the insurgents inflicted the injury it will be the federal government to which the United States will look for reparation.

As soon as official reports upon the fighting and the casualties sustained by Americans shall have been received, representations will be made to the Mexican government, it is believed, and in due course the claims of those injured will be presented. It is pointed out, however, that in some cases Mexico will have a counter claim of contributory negligence on the part of injured Americans.

As a renewal of fighting at Agua Prieta is looked for, it is expected the formal notice will be served upon both federal and insurgent forces to the effect that American property on this side of the border must not be endangered.

Insurgent shrewdsness is recognized in the fact that they attacked from the north of Agua Prieta, so as to force its defenders to fire toward Douglas. The apparent rule has been comment here. The rebels are believed to have conceived the possibility that such a movement might result in complications and the retention of the Mexican government with that of the United States.

GEORGIA
NEWS

Savannah.—Brig. Gen. J. W. Hall of Brunswick, commanding the South Georgia brigade of the United Confederate Veterans, has announced his staff. It contains the name of some of the best known veterans in this section of the state. The announcements were made by Lieut. Col. H. M. Gibbes, adjutant general and chief of staff. The appointments are as follows: Adjutant general and chief of staff, Lieut. Col. H. M. Gibbes; assistant adjutant general, Maj. C. A. Seemann; inspector general, Maj. J. G. McCall; quartermaster, Maj. J. M. Edwards; editor, chief commissary, Maj. C. V. Grace; secretary, assistant chief commissary, Capt. D. B. Mull; pitmaster, Capt. J. S. Patterson; chief surgeon, Maj. B. S. Purse; Savannah; chief of artillery, Maj. H. G. Ward; executive assistant chief of artillery, Capt. L. J. Johnson; Graham; chief of ordnance, Maj. J. J. Easterling; Reidsville; chief of engineers, Maj. J. C. Overstreet; Savannah; chief of engineers, Capt. W. P. Dasher; Sylvester; chief paymaster, Maj. J. W. Quartermaster; Beach; chief of engineers, Capt. G. W. Nichols; Jesup; Capt. D. W. Dyal; Hazlehurst; chief of engineers, Capt. J. M. Johnson; Blackshear; courier from Sons of Veterans, Capt. Abner Zittner; Savannah; sponsor of the brigade, Miss Kate C. Hall, Brunswick.

Waycross.—Stockholders voted an issue of bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 to build and equip the Atlantic, Waycross and Northern railroad, projected from St. Marys, on the Atlantic, through the cities of Waycross, Marietta, and Dalton, to either Port or Port Valence, thence to Atlanta. The estimated cost of the line exclusive of the right of way, is $1,000,000. The prospects are favorable to the early completion of the line, as strong backing has been assured the promoters throughout the territory to be traversed. The attorneys of the railroad will appear before the railroad commission within a short time to petition for the sanction of the state to the proposed line. Waycross has been made headquarters of the new line, and offices are already opened.

Albany.—One of the greatest political poles, the history of Albany was sprung when it became known that the resignation of Chief of Police N. Westbrook had been placed in the hands of the board of police commissioners. Chief Westbrook confirmed the report when seen, but stated that the police commission had taken no action in the matter. That kind there are responsible for the retirement of Chief Westbrook is indicated in statements which he made.

Rome.—Antoniou and alarmed by certain features in the situation report of the board of public works, the city council authorized the mayor to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of the board. The mayor appointed Messrs. Powers, May and McDonald, the finance committee, to investigate the board and report back to council. Two particular items caused the alarm, namely, the report of the board as to the street department. That department had an overdraft of $9,644.40. The report showed that the street department had spent $20,000 for permanent improvements, $6,000 for maintenance and $1,000 for profits from the waterworks. This amount they had spent and nearly ten thousand dollars more. The other item of trouble was the report of the waterworks system. This report showed that the receipts of the system for the year had been $25,554. The book profit for the year was $2,000. This, however, $4,000 is represented by the delinquent and uncollected water rents. As a result of the discussion the report of the board of public works was not received, but was held over for investigation.

Cartersville.—Miss Jessie Cobb of this city, president of the Bartow county chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, has been appointed maid of honor for the next Georgia division of the United Confederate Veterans for the general reunion which will be held at Little Rock, Ark., in May. This is a great honor to Miss Cobb and to the Bartow county chapter.

Macon.—H. P. Northington, proprietor of the Newburg poultry farm, has a barred Plymouth Rock hen that he declares has laid an egg on every day of the last 74 days. She still appears to be in laying trim, producing her eggs regularly, and is showing no symptoms of wanting to rest.

Savannah.—Savannahians are now chicken mad, and plans are on foot for a poultry show in the fall. There are probably a few "chicken farms" in the back yards of Savannah, but in any other city in the country, Savannahians of prominence have some in the city, and are raising them in extensive scale. As evidence of the great interest that is being taken here in the chicken industry, the Savannahian stock association has been organized with a charter membership of 100, and it is expected the membership will reach 200 within the next few weeks.

Don't Favor Dancing.

Dr. J. E. White, the Atlanta minister, has issued a statement in which he denies that he favors dancing for church members. This statement is published in another column in order that the Doctor may be set straight under our former criticism.

Of course there are many things worse than dancing, and many of these things are practiced, and sometimes defended, by church members. It was a little unusual, however, that a minister should appear to publicly advocate dancing as a church amusement, and that was the point attributed to Dr. White which caused the surprise.

In setting himself straight, the Doctor takes a position with which it is easy to agree—"if the churches would make and maintain more opportunities for innocent and pleasurable religion for their young people, the ungodly dance would not so much disturb them and cause them to stumble."

Nothing could be better put. Religion does not mean a long face any more than a long face means religion, but there are many social pleasures which the churches do not sanction, and which will not be engaged in by those who truly love their church or are worthy to be called Christians.

Visitors in New York.

If plans do not miscarry, the Georgia Weekly Press Association will take an outing to New York in July.

Now that will be a sight worth seeing, and there will be two sides to the sight—while the editors are seeing the city, the city will have a chance to see the editors. And that will be worth going miles to see! From Battery Park clear up to the Bronx the procession will go. Sky-scrapers, underground railroads, elevated railroads, the Brooklyn bridge—all those things will engage the editors' attention.

And New York will have a chance to see the country newspaper crowd in their don't-care mood. It won't make any difference, though—if New York can get any more fun out of it than the editors, she will be welcome to it.

Foley's Kidney Pills

Easter is Statesboro was a bright and pleasant day, and the occasion was duly observed at the churches.

The congregations at the Methodist and Baptist churches were unusually large in the morning, and the ministers made appropriate remarks touching the origin of the day.

In the afternoon, however, at the Sunday-schools was the day observed in all of its gladness and both the Methodist and Baptist Sunday-schools exceeded all previous records for attendance, the Methodists having 305 in attendance by the Baptists only a few behind.

At the evening service all the churches united with the Baptists, and large congregation filled the church to overflowing.

DOCTOR SAYS HE DIDN'T SAY IT

ATLANTA MINISTER DENIES THAT HE ADVOCATES DANCING.

To the Christian Index:

My attention has been called to an item the Statesboro newspaper with an editorial reference from the editor, in which I am represented as an advocate of dancing. These statements are based on a report in one of the Atlanta papers of a discussion in the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Conference on the subject of the drift of young people to the cities from the country. In reporting that discussion the Atlanta reporter seized upon a single reference in my speech which brought on considerable laughter among the members of the conference, to the effect that our country churches should more earnestly cultivate their young people in order to hold them to the communities in which they live. I said that from my own experience I knew that church life in the country was often meager and lacking in interest to young men and young women. I said also that I thought it a mistake to turn young Christians out of the church for playing "Scotch rattle." I was asked what that was. I replied that it was a sort of dance—a "King William was King George's Son" sort of performance that I was too old to illustrate for their benefit. The reporter present made his head lines out of this remark and the Statesboro editor makes his editorial out of the head lines. Of course, I do not advocate dancing in the church as a social center, especially in the country. I do not advocate dancing anywhere, but I do advocate the rights of young and happy Christians to be Christians after their own happy fashion and not after the fashion of their grandmothers and certainly not after the fashion of some of the dear dyspeptic saints of which the Roman Catholic church makes so much account. I am too good a Baptist and read too well the New Testament, which is our guide for faith and for practice, to admire that sort of piety or to believe that he who said: "I come and they might have life and have it more abundantly," meant that the Christian life in individual or in church should be patterned after a monkish style and the monastery fashion. If the churches would make and maintain more opportunities for innocent and pleasurable social religion for their young people, the ungodly dance would not so much disturb them and cause them to stumble. That was my point.

Teacher Whipped Pupil:

Is Held for Assault.

Cordele, Ga., April 15.—The most sensational justice court trial heard in Cordele within recent months was called this morning before Judge H. M. Campbell, in which Professor Jason Scarboro, superintendent of the Cordele High School, was arraigned as defendant on a charge of assault and battery upon the person of Stanley, the 13-year-old son of B. T. Dumas, who caused the warrant to be issued a few days ago.

This case grew out of alleged cruel punishment administered to young Dumas for violating certain rules of the school.

The court room was crowded throughout the hearing by pupils, teachers and spectators, many of whom had been summoned as witnesses.

Some of the lady teachers, who, perhaps, never before were required to appear in a court case, were included among the witnesses.

At the conclusion of the hearing Professor Scarboro was bound over to the city court on a bond of $100.

Appeal to the Legislature.

Statesboro, Ga., April 15, 1911.

Resolved, That we, the Farmers' Union of Bulloch county in session today, respectfully ask our representatives to the next session of the Georgia legislature that they use their best efforts to repeal the act restricting the rural districts to teaching no higher than the seventh grade, and grant them the right to teach any and all grades the child may acquire; that a copy of this resolution be published in each of the county local papers here, and a copy be sent to the Farmers' Union News for publication, and ask the co-operation of the state at large.

Twelve Now in Jail

For Trial Next Week.

There are twelve prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial in superior court next week. The grade of offenses ranges all the way from murder down to vagrancy.

The murder cases are Joe Woods, Andrew Watson, John and Jim Cook, Joe Henry and Oscar Weaver.

Woods has three times been convicted of the murder of Wink Mikell, near Rocky Ford three years ago. Andrew Watson was convicted at last term of superior court of the murder of Andrew Kennedy eleven years ago. He is now awaiting the outcome of a motion for a new trial. The Cooks (father and son) are to be tried for the killing of Sam Waters at Excelsior last Christmas. The Weavers (brothers) are held for killing Monroe Walker at Clito in November.

Other jail cases are Frank James, rape; Will Scott, cheating and swindling; Jesse Horn, shooting at another; Lewis Ellis, horse stealing; D. S. Mitchell, cheating and swindling. Jim Crawford, vagrancy.

Revival at Register.

Revival services will be held at Register Baptist church, commencing Sunday, May 30th, and continuing for one week. The pastor will be assisted in the services by Rev. B. G. Smith, of Atlanta. A cordial invitation is extended every one to attend.

Meeting at Methodist Church.

Rev. T. D. Ellis, of Wesley Monumental church, Savannah, will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. This will mark the beginning of revival services in that church, announced by the pastor to continue for two weeks.

Sixteen Compass Points Swallowed as Medicine.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 15.—Thinking he was taking medicine which the doctors had prescribed, Instructor John T. Williams, of Cornell University, connected with the College of Mechanical Engineering, put his hand into his pocket the other day, pulled out a capsule and swallowed it. Not long after he began to hunt for sixteen points of an architect's compass which he had misplaced, and recalled that he had put them in a capsule for safe-keeping, and dropped it into his pocket.

He could not find the capsule, but in a day or so sharp intestinal pains gave him an inkling of what had happened. He had swallowed the capsule with the sixteen compass points by mistake. He was taken to a hospital, where surgeons worked over him and finally succeeded in removing every one of the pins by drawing them through the small intestines.

While Williams is seriously ill, it is believed that he eventually will recover. Had the pins remained in his intestines he would have died in three days, the doctors say.

REDUCTION IN ACREAGE

WRITER SAYS WILL NOT BRING HIGHER PRICES.

A writer in the Savannah Morning News advances some points regarding the proposed reduction of sea island acreage, which are highly interesting. That our farmer friends may be able to get a glimpse of the situation from the other side, the article is herewith published in full.

Editor Morning News: I have read with considerable interest your editorial on the subject of "Sea Island Cotton," and beg leave to use a little of your space to make some remarks on the subject.

I gather from the editorial that you think it wise to reduce the acreage; I think the chief thing to do at this time is to find ways and means of keeping down the cost of production, and in this connection I might say it would be a good plan if farmers would keep some sort of accurate account, and ascertain what the cost of production actually is. Farmers will give you all sorts of figures as showing the cost of their crop, but it can be seen at a glance that these figures are not near accurate. Our farmers must reckon with the Egyptian crop; it is not a new thing, and as a matter of history, sea islands were really produced as a substitute for other cottons and also of flax.

The Egyptian crop is not to be "turned down" as poorer substitutes for Georgias and Floridas; last season our eastern and southern spinners actually paid more for the better sort of Egyptians than they had to pay for Georgias and Floridas. This year some 5,000 to 6,000 bales of a new breed of Egyptian cotton was produced that will easily do the work of our best Georgias, and the trade expects a much larger production of this new breed the coming year.

The Egyptian crop is about 40 per cent greater this season than last, hence it is cheaper, but that crop is handled much better than ours is handled with reference to merchandising it. Take our present crop for instance; the country buyers were led astray by the good demand from the spinners early in the season, and ran prices up 6 cents a pound in a very short time, although they were repeatedly cautioned that conditions did not warrant the prices paid. The country buyers listened to the wiles of the Bulloch county, who predicted a crop of not over 60,000 bales, and a price of 40 cents per pound, while at the same time Egyptians were declining and the English authorities in Egypt were showing spinners that a crop of over 7,000,000 Cantars could be expected (and receipts at Alexandria have shown they were right).

Our country buyers were active all the first part of the season buying at 30 cents and above, which goes to show that farmers were satisfied with those prices; and had these buyers met the demand around 30 cents, and merchandised their purchases as they should have, then the present state of affairs would not exist. Of course farmers should get for their product all there is in it, but in our cotton crop generally to say nothing of sea islands, they start out by trying to guess at the market, or in other words speculate on their crop after it is made, and generally to their sorrow. The trouble is, the best planters are refused financial assistance by the factory because the factors are carrying the load for the country merchant.

Let the farmers, large and small, at least keep in touch with the principal market, and ship their A Reliable Medicine—Not a Narcotic.

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and, as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved as much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Sold by M. M. Lively, opposite new bank building.

W. H. ELLIS, Druggist, Statesboro, Ga.

crop for sale as it is baled, and under the direction of a good factor or commission merchant, allowing them to use their own discretion about selling; no one can call it good business to give a factor such orders as "if you can sell my cotton, don't sell it, but if you find it is a drug on the market and there are no buyers, then sell it at the highest quotations." Such instructions, or what amounts to about the same thing, are given factors in Savannah every year, and surely this is no way to merchandise a crop.

Another item that must be taken into account this season is the price of raw silk. Two years ago raw silk was selling above $6 a pound, and this year it has been under $5.

Quite a considerable amount of sea island yarn is used in the manufacturing of the cheaper silks when the raw silk is high, but when it is low, manufacturers find it better to use silk yarn for both warp and filler, especially when sea islands are held at very high prices as compared with other kinds of cotton.

The present styles for the ladies' dresses call for a reduction of fully 50 per cent in the material, and you never see the yards and yards of ribbons the ladies wore but a couple of years ago. Last season lace hosiery made from sea island cotton "guaranteed" sold at 85 cents a pair, while this season you can buy the same article in all pure silk with cotton heels and toes at 50 cents.

Buyers of sea island and other cotton with extra staple who deal with spinners, keep up with all these matters in more than a general way, and you seldom find them caught with a large unsalable stock on hand.

A large supply of any special article creates a demand, and if it is good enough to be classed special it is bound to bring a good price. We have seen a crop of 80,000 bales of sea island sold at a lower price than a crop of 120,000 which followed it.

I believe that if handled intelligently, sea islands can be produced in Georgia and Florida profitably at 20 cents a pound, and with the decrease in production of extra staples in the Mississippi and Yazoo delta, there will always be a demand if merchants handling the crop will show a willingness to meet the market.

Therefore, I say, let our farmers put in their usual amount of sea island cotton and produce as good crop as possible, and with the change in the styles that is bound to come from year to year, they will get a fair price. No spinner would deliberately start using any kind of cotton if they know to start with that they are not going to be able to get supplies, therefore, a small crop of special cotton will not insure high prices.
